Bonfire Tide release ethereal new single 'Dream Of It'

2023 has been a huge year for indie six-piece Bonfire Tide. They've played The Great Escape festival in Brighton, supported James Holt in Manchester, released a string of 60-second covers and their debut EP: 'Not The Life You Promised'. Now they're releasing surreal new single 'Dream Of It'.

Described by the band as the dark horse of their debut EP, 'Dream Of It' pairs husky vocals with rich swirling synths and placid guitars. Tense undertones permeate the song, as we're guided through delicate metaphors for loss; broken glass, breadcrumbs, and ice melting in whiskey.

Bonfire Tide paint a picture of hopefulness against a backdrop of sadness in a way only they can. 'Dream Of It' is a sombre yet engaging ballad that will tug at the heartstrings.

They are gearing up for a string of gigs in the autumn, most notably a show at Manchester Academy supporting new-wave icons China Crisis on Saturday 23rd September. New singles from the band are due around the end of 2023.

ABOUT BONFIRE TIDE

Bonfire Tide formed in the strange days of 2020, writing around a premise of emotional rawness and grandiose arrangements packed into direct, hook-driven songs.

Often compared to the likes of Coldplay, The National and Arcade Fire, the band have been crafting their style of indie rock with great care and attention to detail. A band full of talent, they write, produce, film, edit, plan, scheme and deliver entirely independently.

They are David Barden (Vocals), Craig Gibson (Guitar), Matthew Boone (Bass), Izzy Williamson (Cello, Piano), James John (Drums) and Jay Plent (Guitar, Synths).
